In January 2021, hackers claimed to have accessed another 111 million user's account information. TikTok has been criticized for the amount of time it takes for users to upload videos and therefore can affect their ability to generate revenue from them. These issues have been compounded by the company's lack of oversight and a lack of in-app review or moderation tools available for its users. As of May 2021, the app has been criticized for the amount of inappropriate and illegal content shared on its platform and the ease with which users can access this content.",

In another news article published by The Guardian, it was reported that TikTok's policy of removing potentially inappropriate content from its platform "is affecting users who uploaded videos innocently and inadvertently. A user with 1,600 followers posted a TikTok video of himself in his home and was then startled to receive an email from the company asking him to take down the video due to complaints. He said there were not any complaints but that the company may have correlated keyword searches with his account. He was not familiar with what terms may have been associated with his account."", TikTok is completely free to use and does not require you to pay anything for using some features. You can also share your videos and photos with your friends on TikTok by sending them a direct link from your mobile phone or any other user's mobile phone via SMS, WhatsApp, Messenger or through any other application using a Bluetooth technology. You can also add songs from YouTube music sources or download songs on the platform as well.", TikTok is an app where one can share videos of their daily activities with their friends or followers. The videos are made by allowing people to upload or make their own videos. They allow the user to add music, edits and special effects by using different filters available on the editing part of tiktok. There are a variety of edits and special effects available. TikTok also allows the user to add emojis in their video. It can be either an emoji or any face expression that is used by the user.", TikTok is not the only app by ByteDance that requires its users to pay for certain features. One example of this is the subscription function for WeChat, a popular messaging service in China and certain other countries. This has led to some people being very concerned about ByteDance's business practices and whether or not it is fair for people to be required to pay for all of the features that are offered on TikTok's platform. In addition, critics have noted that these subscription fees may be used by ByteDance to influence user behaviour and/or monitor users' activities in order to find out what content they are interested in and why they are interested in it. For example, it is possible that people might be required to subscribe to TikTok in order to listen to certain types of music which ByteDance wants people to hear.",

TikTok App's personality was designed based on the culture and practices of different countries around the world. It is a melting-pot for people, from all nationalities, racial groups, cultures and religions. The four basic features of Tiktok are: Chat (conversational chat), Chat Rooms, Voice Recording (voice message) & Sharing photos. The app uses barcodes and camera feature to paste contacts' information into the "conversation" stream for easy access. As such it gives users a visual representation that would make their communication much more real-time than other messaging apps like WhatsApp or Skype. Moreover, it also helps users to retrieve contacts they don't know by just scanning codes.", Another article published in an Australian news outlet noted that "TikTok has attracted a constant stream of derision from users who accuse it of being a safety hazard or an easy way to find people's personal details, including their address." The article continued to describe how other users have used TikTok for their own self-promotion, including in order to gain money as well as promoting scams such as romance scams. Some users have also shared their concern how this app could potentially cause them harm if they upload sensitive images.",

In July 2021, Chinese regulators forced TikTok to censor its content globally in order to comply with local laws. The company was also forced to remove 985 million monthly users from the platform. This led many young users to fear that their accounts would be permanently deleted and their personal information sold on the black market. TikTok's only option to comply with such a mandate is by removing any inappropriate content that exists on the platform, leaving YouTube-like platforms as the primary destination for such content.",

The app has also been accused of being culturally appropriative due to its overwhelmingly white user base, but as of 2021, it has a growing Asian userbase as well. However, many Asian people on twitter are criticizing Tiktok saying that the app is racist because the only Asian people on tiktok are usually just Korean people or people who post content in Korean &/or criticize Korea and Kpop (even though they know they won't understand korean). They say that the app is racist because they only feature korean or chinese people but never other Asian ethnicities like Japanese, Thai, Vietnamese etc.",
